Opinion and Analysis

7 Towards a Reunited Europe

Carl Bildt

My vision is clear. I want Europe to be a continent without dividing lines, where people, ideas, trade and investment can move freely, across increasingly irrelevant borders. This would make Europe and its people more prosperous, innovative and secure.

12 Spurring on the European Project

Radosław Sikorski

The Eastern Partnership is an ambitious endeavour. It is bringing change to countries that are not just neighbours of Europe – they are our European neighbours.

21 Europe's Give and Take

Jana Kobzova

29 Grading the Eastern Partnership: Between fair and poor

In August 2013, New Eastern Europe asked ten experts from across Europe to participate in a survey on the Eastern Partnership programme (EaP). The experts completed a scorecard with a series of categories for each of the six EaP countries.

35 To Vilnius and Beyond

Rafał Sadowski

42 Last Call for the Eastern Partnership

Adam Balcer

51 The Sick Man of Europe

Vitaly Portnikov

If the Ukrainian authorities manage to fulfil the conditions and sign the Association Agreement with the European Union, this decision will be met with enthusiasm by most Ukrainians. But any real change will be a long process. We should, therefore, be patient and understand that we are dealing with the long-term treatment of the metastatic disease of communism.

56 The Moldovan Gambit

Paweł Kowal

64 Georgia on the Fast Track

Kakha Gogolashvili

71 The Honest Broker

Kinga Dudzińska

78 The German View of Russia

Agnieszka Łada and Cornelius Ochmann

89 How the Nation State Killed Europe

Lucian Tion

Just like childhood traumas that come back to haunt us in our adult lives, the mistakes of Europe's political infancy of a century ago are only now starting to claim their first victims. And the concept of the nation state may be at the very top of the list.

96 One Election, Two Czech Republics

Geoffroy Berson

103 Exploring the Roots of Montenegro

Anna Jagiełło-Szostak

Special Section: Digital Eastern Europe

---

111 New Media and Democracy in Post-Soviet Countries

Natalya Ryabinska

With its high penetration rates, the internet has entered the reality of post-Soviet societies extremely quickly. This penetration, however, does not necessarily equate to greater democratisation in these countries.

119 Toys for the Super-Rich
Mykola Kniazhytsky

123 Tales from the (Ru)Net
Sergey Utkin

130 The End of Journalists
Eryk Mistewicz
Over the last 20 years in Poland, a new type of creation, distribution and perception of information has been shaped. Research shows that Poles trust their peers in their social networks and the opinions of “people like me”, more than the opinions of professionals.

136 Ukraine’s Parallel Realities
Igor Lyubashenko

Interviews

---

142 Tatarstan’s Disappearing Identity
A conversation with Leila Almazova

147 Turning Over a New Leaf
A conversation with Andrzej Puksztó

Reports

152 Heroic Adventures in Transnistria
Rory MacLean

History

---

163 A Stumbling Block of Reconciliation
Yaroslav Hrytsak
Polish-Ukrainian reconciliation is a remaining key to Europe’s Eastern relations which, with the passing of the generation of its architects, is slowly slipping away.

169 The Forgotten War
Mart Laar

People, Ideas, Inspiration

---

177 A Proud Moldovan?
Interview with Nicoleta Esinencu

182 A Domestic Charade
An excerpt from Zośka Papużanka’s Szopka
